

“Rebuild is us, and we are Rebuild”

All about Rebuild's Grassroots Regional Gathering in Delhi

This gathering, designed entirely by our grassroots NGO leaders, was an organic, leader-driven space where they chose the sessions, shaped the discussions, and explored new pathways to well-being, networking, and amplifying impact.

A gathering that brought together 80+ stakeholders to meaningfully engage and explore synergies.

WELCOME ADDRESS

“Rebuild is us and we are Rebuild”
– a collective statement by Rebuild
leaders

THEMATIC EXHIBITION WALK

"Yahaan aakar aisa lag raha hai ki aur bhi log hain jo duniya bachane ke liya kaam kar rahe hain, hum akele nahi hain."

– Prabhat Jha, Nalanda

THEMATIC DISCUSSIONS

"Second in lines have come here today, this is a first step towards change, towards rethinking our policies. We have gone back by 10 years with COVID, every organization has a set agenda and we have a long way to go but we should recognize that we have been able to pull leadership from the community."

– Hameeda Khaton, Sadbhavana Trust

MARKETPLACE

"Social Media iss zamaane me sansthaon ki zubaan ban chuki hai. The social sector is lagging in conveying it's work to the masses. Promoting and advocating for the tough work being done is crucial, especially for grassroots organizations. Organizations need to feel empowered with skills and semantics so they can craft powerful content that speaks for our cause."

– Sanjay Malakar, Manthan Sansthan Kotri

UNPACKING FUNDER MINDSETS

"Businesses understand failure, that is their recipe for generating wealth. Just like no business investment has zero risk, investment in NGOs is also not risk-free. But, it is our responsibility to highlight this and talk to them in a language they understand."

– Deval Sanghavi, Co-Founder, Dasra
